DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tomie.

Tomie (Figs. 1A-1C) teaches a high frequency input/output feedthrough conductor including: a line conductor (19) has identical tapers (41-42) having length and width dimensions at an area where the conductor inputs and outputs from a upper dielectric substrate (16) (i.e. a parasitic element since the dielectric material of the upper substrate (16) is inherently of a material having different dielectric properties from the air which is over the outside portions of the conductor, and since the tapered area is in the vicinity of an upper ground layer 75); the structure is designed with dimensions so that the device has reduced insertion losses (i.e. cancelled unwanted electrical characteristics) and excellent transmission characteristics thus inherently the electrical characteristics along the signal path would have to be determined.

Response to Arguments/Conclusion

Note that applicant indicated that Claim 16 has been rewritten to include the limitations of the base claim and intervening claims. However, applicant has not included all of the intervening and base claim limitations in new Claim 16.

Accordingly:

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
